

WEDNESDAY NIGHT MOVIES AT BARRINGTON CLUB

On Christmas Eve 1991, the British royal family prepares to spend the Christmas holidays at the Queen's estate, Sandringham, in Norfolk. Among the attendees is Diana, Princess of Wales who is on the verge of a nervous breakdown. Spencer depicts Diana's suspicions of her husband's unfaithfulness, the coldness and control of her relatives coldness and her struggles with fantasies of the distant past as well as memories of her youth, while she struggles to protect her children from the oppression of their royal inheritance.

"Spencer" is perversely gripping. It dares to unbend, playing the angry fool amid kings-to-be, queens, princes, princesses, and all that jazz." - The New Yorker
